- Accommodation at the Royal Agricultural University
- Breakfast, lunch, and evening meals
- Carefully selected wines from across the globe
- A wide selection of afternoon and evening activities including a concert of Chamber music in the Scruton Library performed by musicians Roger knew and admired.

ACCOMMODATION

Set in magnificent grounds, The Royal Agricultural University, Cirencester is a Victorian Gothic college following the ideals set by Ruskin for Oxford Colleges. Each en-suite bedroom offers lovely views across the beautiful Cotswold landscape.

TUITION

The Scrutopia faculty network is extensive. You can expect brilliant daily lectures given by our faculty of scholars who themselves have been inspired and encouraged by Roger's work, teaching, and friendship. Each student will have the chance to discuss their thoughts about a wide range of topics and focus their thinking during individual tutorials.

VISITS & ACTIVITIES

Scrutopia emerged from Sudey Hill Farm, the home of the Scruton family. The visits will include guided farm walk, a BBQ with locally sourced produce and a concert of chamber music performed in the Scruton Library. The daily philosophy classes will be interspersed with visits to nearby historical sites including Malmesbury which will provide an experience of the historical depth of this unique part of England.
